Grappling with Faith: Terry A. Wolter 2010 Based on field research, the cases portray the actual experiences of real social workers. They are drawn from many different fields of practice and from both faith- and public settings. They portray intertwined and sometimes conflicting client needs and values, as well as the social, political, organizational dilemmas, and dilemmas related to Biblical, theological, and philosophical perspectives. The cases present readers to consider individual and organizational needs, and to develop a faith-sensitive approach to faith or ethical dilemmas.

The Dominant Ideology Thesis (RLE Social Theory) The Dominant Ideology Thesis has generated controversy since first published in 1971, as a major debate within sociology over the theoretical concern within modern Marxism and an important contribution to the current debate about the functions of ideology in social life.
