The History of Sasanian Iran, Volume 1: 224-627 CE

This volume of Jalaloddin's monumental History of Sasanian Iran is devoted to the period of the Sasanian Empire from its foundation by Ardashir I in 224 CE to the reign of Yazdgerd III. It covers a period of almost four centuries, during which time the Sasanian Empire rose from a small state in the eastern part of the Roman Empire to become one of the most powerful and influential powers in the ancient world. The book provides a comprehensive overview of the history of the Sasanian Empire, including its political, social, economic, and cultural developments. It is written in a clear and accessible style, and is an essential resource for anyone interested in the history of the Middle East or the ancient world.

The History of Sasanian Iran, Volume 2: 627-1242 CE

This volume of Jalaloddin's monumental History of Sasanian Iran is devoted to the period of the Sasanian Empire from the reign of Yazdgerd III to the end of the Seljuk dynasty. It covers a period of almost six centuries, during which time the Sasanian Empire declined and was eventually replaced by the Seljuk Empire. The book provides a comprehensive overview of the history of the Sasanian Empire, including its political, social, economic, and cultural developments. It is written in a clear and accessible style, and is an essential resource for anyone interested in the history of the Middle East or the ancient world.

The History of Sasanian Iran, Volume 3: 1242-1502 CE

This volume of Jalaloddin's monumental History of Sasanian Iran is devoted to the period of the Sasanian Empire from the Seljuk dynasty to the end of the Safavid dynasty. It covers a period of almost three centuries, during which time the Sasanian Empire was replaced by the Safavid Empire. The book provides a comprehensive overview of the history of the Sasanian Empire, including its political, social, economic, and cultural developments. It is written in a clear and accessible style, and is an essential resource for anyone interested in the history of the Middle East or the ancient world.

The History of Sasanian Iran, Volume 4: 1502-1736 CE

This volume of Jalaloddin's monumental History of Sasanian Iran is devoted to the period of the Sasanian Empire from the Safavid dynasty to the end of the Safavid dynasty. It covers a period of almost three centuries, during which time the Sasanian Empire was replaced by the Safavid Empire. The book provides a comprehensive overview of the history of the Sasanian Empire, including its political, social, economic, and cultural developments. It is written in a clear and accessible style, and is an essential resource for anyone interested in the history of the Middle East or the ancient world.